16/29 To receive the Cornwall Councillors reports

Cllr Scrafton reported

- I have attended the usual round of meetings at County Hall and elsewhere.
- On Tuesday at Par Beach, I met the Cornwall Council portfolio holders for planning and for housing and the environment, together with the Chief Executive of Cornwall Council. They were undertaking a briefing tour, with representatives

- of the Environment Agency, of the area covered by STARR. This was a welcome opportunity to introduce the Chief Executive to our area.
- Earlier in the month I had attended a multi-agency meeting in Bodmin on the same project, where those present were briefed on progress toward the submission of a multi-million pound funding bid by the end of this month.
 - Work has continued on the Par running track project. I am hopeful that news of the fate of the bid in which I have been involved will be available by the end of this month.
 - I regret that my decision not to call in a planning application for the building of a one-bedroom property on land to the rear of 40 Par Green appears to have given rise to some local disappointment. I made my decision only when I was convinced that there was no prospect of Cornwall Council successfully defending an appeal against a (nother) rejection of the application. In these circumstances, to have asked a planning committee to consider it would have been an entirely nugatory exercise.
 - I am happy to provide a more detailed report of my work during the past month to anyone who might wish me to.
- Cllr Hughes – no report
Cllr Taylor – reported
- He had been on holiday but had attended various meetings since his return, including one based at the Eden project looking at geothermal energy.
 - The Community Watch meetings in St Blaze had now been put forward a week so as not to clash with the monthly tywardreath & Par parish council environment committee meetings
