

The Flood Water map is intended as indicative area of search for interventions that will help manage flood water in the future. Actual flood flow route potential should be assessed in the event of a development proposal coming forward in any of these areas. (StARR Project, Environment Agency, 2019).

Flood Water Map

